

Failure Investigation Services

You need to know why your widget broke...

Failures happen to everybody, in the recent past MACAW has provided failure investigations to a wide range of industries from automotive, utility, oil and gas to local authorities. The common thread in all of these investigations is the desire to find out “what happened” to prevent a reoccurrence.

MACAW Engineering can provide a thorough failure investigation service which will provide the answers you need on any material, corrosion or welding issue.

We will provide you with the independent opinion you need...

MACAW Engineering is an independent consultancy which can provide investigations with no bias or agenda, delivering fair and detailed answers based on the information provided

Why MACAW Engineering?

MACAW Engineering employs some of the leading material, corrosion and welding experts in the country, with many principle consultants having over 30 years experience.

MACAW Engineering operates its own dedicated testing facilities and metallographic laboratory with the latest digital optical microscopes. These facilities allow MACAW to offer cost effective investigations to any weld, material or corrosion problem.

Contact us on:- +44(0)191 216 4930 Email:- info@macawengineering.com

1 Park Road, Gosforth Business Park, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE12 8DG

www.macawengineering.com

